FERGUSON DENIES KLAN INTERVIEW

Says That His Wife Did Not Authorize Statements in Austin American

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 28.—Denial is made by James E. Ferguson that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee, gave an interview to the Austin American in which she was quoted as saying that every member of the Ku Klux Klan will be ousted from the capitol and that no member will be appointed to any position within the gift of the governor.

(Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28.—A statement obtained from James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, democratic nominee for governor, denying that Mrs. Ferguson declared that she would prohibit members of the Ku Klux Klan known to her as such from holding appointive State offices was printed in today's issue of the Austin American. The original statement credited to Mrs. Ferguson appeared Tuesday morning in a copyrighted article in the American.

Today's item resulted from a long distance telephone call last night to the Ferguson residence in Temple made in an effort to obtain from Mrs. Ferguson the information as to whether she denied the statement credited to her in the copyrighted article. Mr. Ferguson, who was said to have been present at the original interview, denied that Mr. Ferguson was quoted correctly, according to the American.

The American said that Ferguson was requested to permit the reporter who wrote the first story to talk to Mrs. Ferguson on the telephone. The interview in question being obtained by a newspaperman of a number of years experience and one whose word has never been questioned the American article stated today.

The item continued to say that the reporter, when Ferguson denied that theinterview was correct asked: "May I talk to Mrs. Ferguson?"

Mr. Ferguson was quoted as replying: "Why, yes, no—no, I don't believe I want you to talk to her at all."

Hunt's Daily Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Arthur Capper's record-breaking victory in the recent Kansas primaries presents a specific case for the political analysts to dissect in their study of comparative Coolidge and La Follette sentiment in the great agricultural mid-west.

Capper, leader of the "farm bloc," which preceded the "La Follette bloc" in the Senate, was renominated for the Senate by the biggest lead ever given any candidate for any office at a Kansas primary. This, in a campaign where the cry of the opposition was that Capper should be defeated because he "has not supported the president."

Capper has been one of the most active critics in the Senate of the Esch-Cummins railroad law. He remained "regular," however, in the fight, led by the La Follette forces, to oust Senator Cummins from the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce Committee. But he helped overthrow the presidential veto on the bonus bill and opposed the Mellon tax bill, indorsed by the president.

IT was on his opposition to the presidential position on the bonus and tax measures that the fight against his renomination was based. As set forth in Capper's own "Weekly," the battle cry of his enemies was:

"Purge the party of those who have failed to stand by the president."

But the voters failed to heed; Capper won by more than 100,000.

Now the question that is puzzling the dopesters is:

Was Capper's big plurality the result of a pro-Capper or an anti-Coolidge sentiment?

To whatever extent it was anti-Coolidge, it is viewed as probably actively for La Follette. To the extent it was simply pro-Capper, it is looked upon as receptively inclined to "Independent" proposals.

SECOND only to "detective schools" in number, according to Luther C. Steward, president of the national federation of federal employes, come "civil service" correspondence schools which promise, in return for a sizeable fee, to fit anyone in short order to pass examinations for a position in Uncle Sam's classified service and to land him a job.

"With September just around the corner," says Steward, "and school bells being tuned up to attract seekers of wisdom and instruction, these schools are getting up steam for a fine fall business at the expense of ambitious persons who wish to land government positions."

Any promises held out by such schools for quick and easy employment by the government are somewhat discounted by the fact that the Civil Service Commission itself has found it necessary to issue a warning that such schools have no recognized standing and that:

"Appointment can be secured only through open competitive examination and no school can cause a competitor to be certified for appointment out of the regular order, as determined by examination rating."

A PRECEDENT for the recognition of "mitigating circumstances" in the conduct of persons arrested as "mashers" was established by a Washington police judge the other day.

One of the capital's demure, uniformed policewomen, while loitering leisurely in the neighborhood of Peace Monument, was accosted by an "auto sheik" who suggested a little spin around the Speedway.

Disdaining his advances, she moved away. Half an hour later, on a corner two or three blocks distant, the same masher renewed his attentions.

Spurned again, he tried a third time for luck a little later.

The minion of the law, who had taken the young man's license number, swore out a formal complaint and he was haled to court.

But the judge—well, as nearly as he could sense it, he said, the policewoman, by loitering along the street, had invited the masher's attention and got only what might have been expected. Case dismissed!

They're 3000 Years Old!

Two distnict eras in the life of China have been unearthed by an archeological party under Carl Whiting Bishop, which has been digging into "tomb mounds" along the Hwai River. The tombs reach a size of 250 by 400 feet with a 20-foot height and date back to the first century after Christ. Stone articles found in the tombs date back to 500-1000 B. C. The picture gives a general view of the excavations, showing plainly the outline of two brick tombs.

Tom Love Has Quit Sends Resignation

(Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 28—Announcing that he would not support the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple for the governorship of Texas and that he had forwarded his resignation as democratic National executive committeeman for Texas to Clem L. Shaver, National chairman, was made here this afternoon by Thomas B. Love of Dallas.

Mr. Love was elected National committeeman at the State democratic convention held at Waco.

In a lengthy statement Mr. Love outlined his political career and the basis of his decision to withdraw from the leadership of the democratic forces in Texas, an office which he has held for the past five years and to which he has just been elected for an additional four year term.

Mr. Love said that he was "earnestly and whole heartedly" interested in the National candidacy of John W. Davis and Governor Charles W. Bryan for president and vice president; and he asserted also that he would support each and every candidate in the democratic State, congressional local ticket except the candidacy of Mrs. Ferguson.

"As a matter of law, I do not believe that the democratic nominee, Mrs. Ferguson, is eligible under our constitution; but, regardless of that, I cannot escape the conviction that it is the duty of every good citizen, regardless of all other considerations, to leave nothing undone that can legitimately be done to prevent the restoration of Fergusonism to our State capitol at Austin," the statement declared.

"For thirty-five years I have served the democratic party and so far as seeking and receiving material gain is concerned I have served it unselfishly," he declared; and continues: "In all that time I have never placed a pencil mark on a democratic ballot and I have never hesitated to make any sacrifice in my power to promote the party's success.

"I have always put country before party welfare; but if I had placed party welfare above public good even from that viewpoint, I would not have hesitated for a minute to follow the course I have determined on for the National campaign.

"I do not believe that a Texas democrat can render more effective party service than by fighting Fergusonism to death, even as our National standard bearer is fighting Fallism to death."

In commenting on the Ku Klux Klan he declares that that issue is forever removed from Texas by the primary of August 23 and asserts: "While I have outspokenly opposed the klan from the beginning, my own belief has been that Fergusonism is a ten times greater menace than Kukluxism.

"No man or woman is bound to support any party nominee whose election he believes will endanger the public welfare. The precedents supporting this are numerous and leave no room for doubt as to its soundness. It is only necessary to mention thousands of those who supported Ferguson's candidacy in last Saturday's primary, including many leaders for Ferguson in the fight of 1922 who refused to support the democratic nominee for United States senator chosen by the primary in which they had participated as notoriously as did Jim Ferguson himself, because they believed his election would endanger the public welfare; I never found fault with them or criticized them for voting against the candidate whose election they believed to be dangerous to the public good without regard to party regularity or party pledges they had made."

He then outlined the reasons for his resignation as National committeeman, declaring, "I feel that it is my duty to vacate the position in view of the fact that I cannot support the nominee for governor.

"I am glad of an opportunity now as a private in the ranks to fight for the good name of Texas to the extent of my humble ability."

Wanted to Scare Him And Now He is Dead

(Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—"I only wanted to scare him," Mrs. Delia Nietha, 44, told the police today in explaining why she shot and killed her estranged husband, Adolph E. Nietha, 44, a painter, last night.

City detectives, summoned to the scene of the shooting, found the unconscious form of a man, lying on the ground beside a sedan. A woman stepped from the crowd and handed one of the detestives a revolver.

"This is the gun I shot my husband with," she said.

The man died early today without having made a statement.

The shooting occurred, Mrs. Nietha said, in the automobile, where, in the presence of her sisters; three small children, she had been endeavoring to effect a reconciliation.

The couple had been married twenty-one years and separated a week ago. With no children of their own, they reared the sister's children. Mrs. Nietha said she had learned that her husband was attentive to another woman.

Mrs. Nietha was held without bond.

NICKEL PLATE PLAN IS BEING EFFECTED

Van Sweringen Interests Are Fast Working Out Tremendous Consolidation

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Directors of the Pere Marquette Railway company today approved the offer of the Van Sweringen interests of Cleveland to join the proposed "Nickel Plate" merger, assuring completon of one of the greatest railroad consolidations in history.

A greater Nickel Plate railway system with 9,060 miles of road connecting tidewater and Great Lakes and reaching into Canada and as far southwest as St. Louis was made posible today by approval of the Pere Marquette railway directors of the merger with Nickel Plate and affiliated lines.

The various properties are estimated to exceed an investment of $1,081,000,000.

This, the second large consolidation effected by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland since they acquired control of the Nickel Plate road in 1916, is the first great grouping of rail lines to approach the scope of such systems as have been suggested under the broad recommendations of the transportation aco of 1920.

It constitutes the greatest realignment of railroads in more than two decades, according to the Van Sweringen's associates.

The action of the Pere Marquette directors closely follows similar action by the Erie and provides for a system with a total trackage, including sidings of 16,000. Through the Pere Marquette, the greater system will extend even 337 miles into Canada.

Last year the Van Sweringens consolidated the Nickel Plate, Toledo, St. Louis and Western (Clover Leaf) and Lake Erie and Western, shortly afterward acquiring control of the Chesapeake and Ohio and its subsidiary, Hocking Valley.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Stock prices developed several points of strength in the early dealings with the merchandise shares buoyant, but slipped off again in the late trading on a resumption of profit taking and short selling. It was one of the dullest sessions in recent months. Sales approximated 525,000 shares.

Brokers Are Buying Control of the Katy

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Recent stock market activity in the shares of the reorganized Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad was explained today in an announcement by Swartwout and Appensellar, members of the New York stock exchange, that they had been acquiring the common stock for clients who were still purchasing it.

It had been reported in the financial district that the interests represented by this brokerage firm had obtained a working coitrol of the road through purchase of approximately one-third of the stock in the open market which was said to have cost about $3,500,000.

This was an increase of 10,690 cars over the week before, all commodities showing an increase compared with the previous week except coal and ore, but it was 87,050 cars below the corresponding week of last year.

Caverly Denounced Crowe for a Cowardly and Dastardly Attack

Court's broadside came at the end of the argument and just before he announced that he would take the matter under consideration and took up the kidnapping case.

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 28—After portions of the closing argument of Robert E. Crowe, State's attorney, had been stricken from the record by Judge John R. Caverly, as a "cowardly, dastardly attack upon the integrity of this court and an attempt to intimidate it," the court today took under advisement the penalty which he must decide for Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers and murderers of Robert Franks.

The remarks of the court came out of a clear sky and startled the crowded court room into a shocked silence.

Mr. Crowe's jaw dropped and he blanched visibly under the judicial broadside.

"Your honor, I had—" he began, but the judge interrupted him.

Judge Caverly stopped protest by the State's attorney and said the prosecutor had tried to intimidate the court, knowing well that what he had said would be broadcast throughout the land.

"Court has no other recourse than to do as it has done," he said. "The State's attorney knew that he would have no chance to reply."

The court did not state specifically what portions of Crowe's remarks aroused his ire. It was recalled however that the State's attorney had referred to possible outbreaks if the death penalty were not imposed and had emphasized the possible power of money in the courts and the wealth of the defendants.

None of the attorneys in the case would comment after the proceedings were over. Clarence S. Darrow, Benjamin Bachrach and Walter Bachrach, the defense leaders, said it would be improper and Mr. Crowe remarked merely that he had "been talking three days."

The court anounced he would give his decision, fixing the penalty for the double crime on September 10, at 9:30 a. m.

None will be admitted to court that day, the court ruled, save defendants, attorneys, court attaches and newspaper men.

The court then called the second case against the youths, the kidnaping charge, and Jacob Franks, the victim's father, was sworn as the first witness to tell of his boy's disappearance.

Mr. Crowe made a brief opening statement in the case, recalling in chief the details especially pertinent to the kidnaping as differentiated from those touching upon the murder charge.

Jacob Franks, father of Robert, and Captain William Schoemaker, were sworn in as State witnesses on the kidnaping count. They testified at the bench, the questions and answers being inaudible over the hum of the room.

Stimulated by the prospect of hearing the climax of the State's appeal, throngs swarmed into the vicinity of the county court building and through its corridors in numbers which threatened early to outdo the record of the more than six weeks' hearing. Only a few more than the capacity of the court room gained entrance to the building.

Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, and master pleader for the lives of the two brilliant college boys, was in court earlier than usual. He read telegrams and mail addressed to him by distant followers of the proceedings and chatted pleasantly with the newspapermen. Apparently he was amused by the tenor of the day's quota of correspondence.

Court attaches, tiring under the strain of the long trial and the persistent crowding of spectators manifested a happier humor generally as they began what they believed to be the last day of intensive ushering.

Mr. Crowe's assistants were in court a few minutes before the session began, but the prosecutor did not enter until a few seconds before the bailiff lifted his gavel to start the day.

Leopold and Loeb were brought into the courtroom and Loeb began a conversation with his guard. He smiled and then broke into a moment of laughter. He wore a small bow tie of baby blue, spotted with yellow design.

Leopold indicated sustained interest in the argument of the prosecutor, perusing the report of the alienists from which Mr. Crowe, read at length yesterday over the shoulder of Walter Bachrach, defense counsel.

Robert E. Crowe, State's attorney, asserted that youth is no legitimate defense to crime.

"Clarence S. Darrow has talked much about mercy for youth," said Mr. Crowe. "He is a student of criminology. He has written a book on it and in that book he says that the criminal age is between 17 and 24. Your Honor knows that the average is 22.

"How can we punish crime and by punishment stop it, if age is a defense?"

Mr. Crowe hammered at his previous point that the motive for the case at bar was money. He also reviewed briefly the pathological condition of the defendants, concluding that Leopold's revealed only early development and Loeb's the result of depravity.

The prosecutor's voice was husky, and he asked a short recess before beginning his peroration.

Mr. Crowe began his argument with the statement to the judge that two Chicago boys, 16 and 19 years of age, had confesed "to the State's attorney last night that they had murdered a woman for sixty dollars."

He turned then to his theory of "money motive," citing again the quotation from the first ransom letter written to Jacob Franks the father of the victim, in which the defendants told the parent "this is strictly a commercial proposition."

Attacking the defense argument that the pathological nature of Leopold was subnormal, Crowe challenged the interpretation of the facts by Mr. Darrow.

"The only pathological irregularity revealed in this case was that Leopold's pineal gland is calcified," he said, and then argued the proposition that this was evidence, not of weakness but of advanced development.

Loeb's only pathological condition he said, was due to depraved habits.

Citing a book in criminology by Mr. Darrow, the prosecutor stated that "this authority tells us that the criminal ages are between 17 and 24." He added: "And, your honor, how in the name of logic can it be argued, if the criminal age is at youth, that youth is a defense?"

Reviewing the record of young men who had been hanged in Illinois, Mr. Crowe recalled the hanging of one Thomas Schultz at 19 year of age and cited the case of a negro hanged at 18.

He recalled Judge Caverly's having once sentenced a young negro to death for murder.

"His ancestors two generations back were slaves; and only a very few generations separated him from slavery in Africa. He was not highly developed intellectually. But he paid the penalty of the law.

"Recognizing that the age of murders is between 17 and 24, with the average at close to 22, are we going to tell the world of the new law, written into the statutes of Illinois by Clarence S. Darrow and approved by the chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county that youth is a defense; that youth is a mitigating circumstance?

"Shall we do this, your honor, or shall we send out the word that the laws of Illinois shall be enforced?"

The morning recess was ordered. Mr. Crowe cited another case of a Chicago boy sentenced to death at 19, and then read excerpts from a speech once delivered by Clarence Darrow before the prisoners of the Cook county jail.

The quotations set forth the view of the senior defense counsel that "there is little moral difference between those in here and those outside."

"You are no more responsible for your being here than the people outside can avoid staying out," he read at another point and again:

"I do not believe we should have jails."

Mr. Darrow was out of the room while this was read, but reentered before Mr. Crowe finished.

"A reformer will tell you to be good and you will be happy," read Mr. Crowe. "The people outside

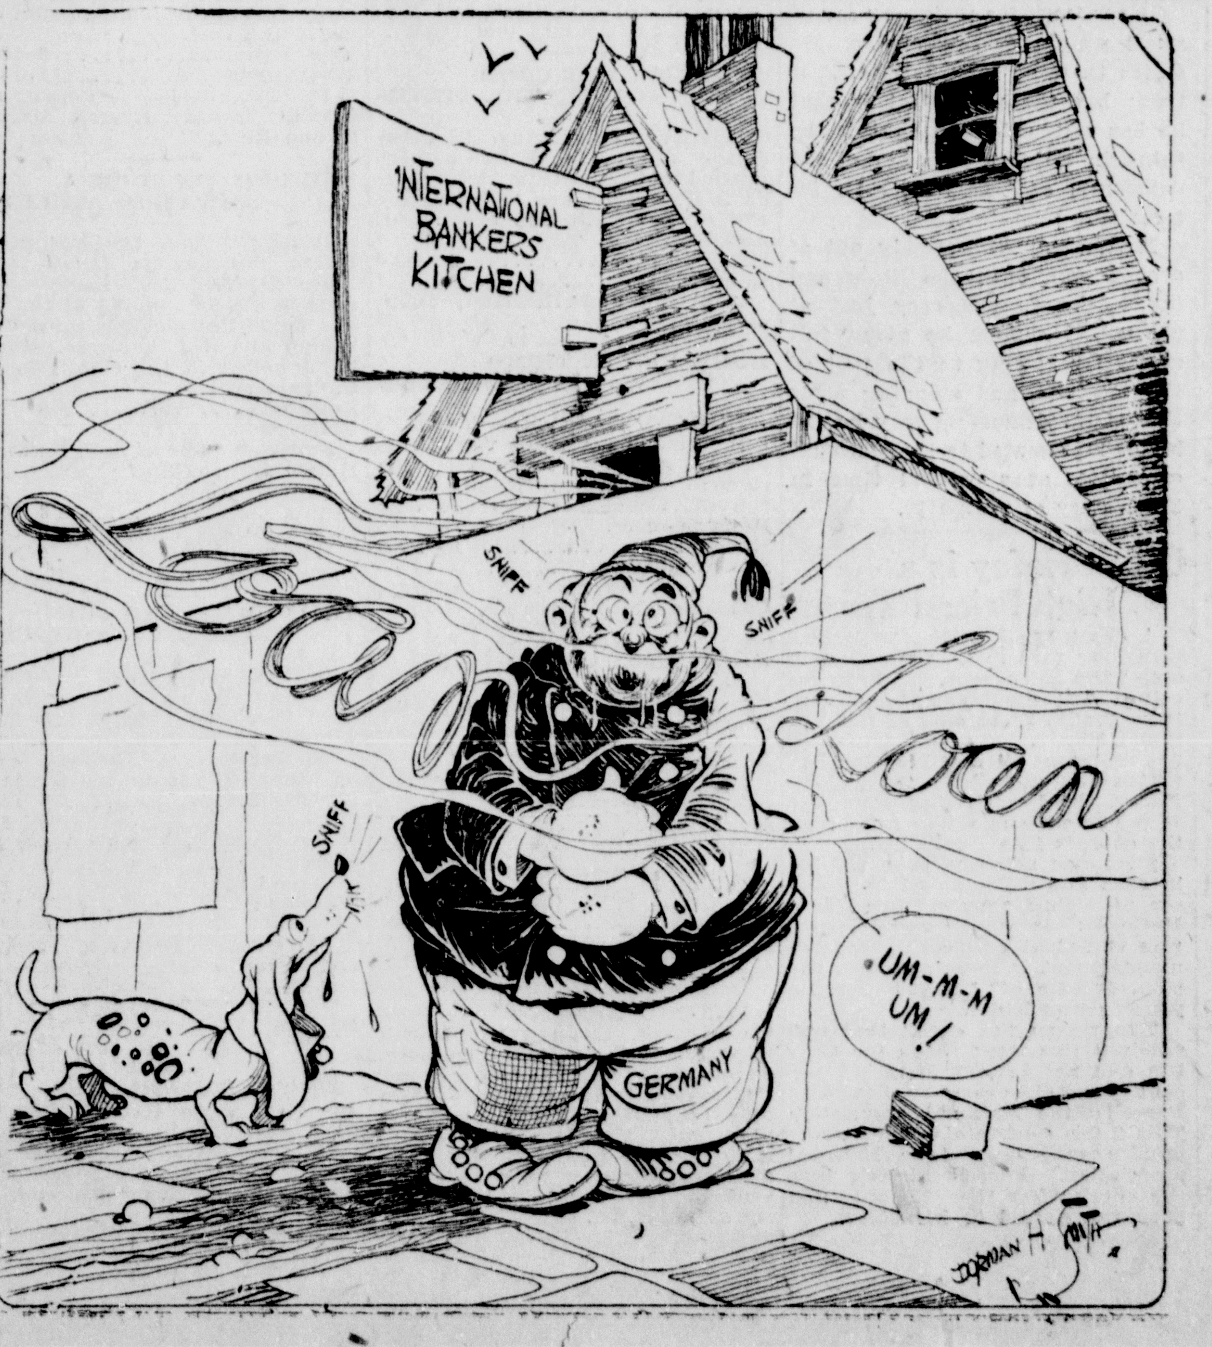
Many Threats Made Against the Judge

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 28—Threats against Judge John R. Caverly, retiring chief justice of the criminal court in Cook county, have become so numerous that extra precautions will be taken to safeguard him September 10, when he is to sentence Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb for the kidnaping and murder of Robert Franks.

He announced in court today that spectators would be excluded from the room on that occasion, but it was learned later that the entire building will be closed to all except those immediately concerned in the case. The sentence is to be passed at 9:30 a. m. and other judges in the building will be asked to defer opening their courts until 11 a. m.

The threats came from advocates of both the death and life imprisonment penalties. One crank wrote he would kill the judge and both defendants if a hanging finding is returned. Another said he would blow up the building unless the student criminals are sent to the scaffold.



GERMANS MAY NOT ACCEPT THE PLAN

Paris is Somewhat Worried Over the Probability of a Delay for Elections

(Associated Press)

PARIS, Aug. 28—The outlook for ratification by Germany of the Dawes plan agreement, concluded at the recent international conference at London, became worse today, according to latest news from the German capital.

The fresh difficulties of Chancellor Marx's government in obtaining a ratification of the London agreement has surprised the official world in Paris. The telephone lines between here and Berlin were largely occupied today with government priority calls.

The nominees for the posts under the Dawes scheme, it was pointed out, however, could not begin their work until after the reichstag had definitely passed the necessary legislation.

It is understood here that the shortest possible period in which new elections in Germany could be held would be two weeks but that in all likelihood four weeks would be required, thus leaving the question of the Dawes plan settlement in suspension for another month.

THE PACT IS TO BE SIGNED SATURDAY

LONDON, Aug. 28—The formal signing of the pact to make effective the Dawes reparation plan concluded at the recent international conference, will take place at the foreign office Saturday.

Sir Eyre Crowe, permanent undersecretary for foreign affairs, will sign on behalf of Great Britain, while the allies and the Germans will be represented by their respective ambassadors and ministers.

It is understood the German government has signified its intention of signing the pact even should the reichstag refuse a two-thirds majority for passing the legislation necessary to make the Dawes plan effective.

American Ambassador Kellogg plans to be present when the pact is signed but he will not affix his name to it.

GASOLINE TAX IS A REVENUE PRODUCER

Six Large Companies Have Paid the Bulk of the Money to the State

(Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28.—Gasoline taxes collected in July by the comptroller's department amounted to $361,950 on approximately 29,5000,000 gallons of gasoline, according to figures made public today by the tax division.

Of this amount $296,463 was paid by six large companies and ranged from $97,169 collected from the Gulf Refining Company and $70,080 from the Magnolia Petroleum Company to $15,255 from the Humble Oil and Refining Company and $14,106 from the Cities Service Oil Company.

One fourth of the total amount collected is distributed by law to the school fund and the remainder to the highway department. None of the tax goes into the general fund which yesterday was at a low ebb.

Ford Did Not Approve of the Ku Klux Klan

(Associated Press)

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—In a further denial of the report that Henry Ford in a statement to a Canadian newspaper reporter has said that the Ku Klux Klan was "misunderstood," his offices here today gave out another wireless from Mr. Ford's yacht, quoting exactly what was said concerning the klan.

While the manufacturer's yacht was being taken through one of the locks of the St. Lawrence river en route to Detroit, a number of reporters sought to interview him, the wireless stated. Numerous questions concerning political matters and President Coolidge's chances for re-election were asked and then one reporter asked.

"What do you know about the Ku Klux Klan?"

"What do you know about it?" Mr. Ford countered.

"Nothing," the reporter answered.

"Neither do I," Mr. Ford returned and the interview was terminated.

CAUSE OF WOMEN'S PECULIAR SUFFERING IS NOW EXPLAINED

Very few women know what goes wrong with their system when they be- cramping spells, pains in the back and gin to suffer from headaches, nausea, sides and that awful dragged-down and tired-out feeling. They realize that something serious is the matter but they are unable to explain it.

As these unfortunate women keep more to their homes because of the self-consciousness of their condition, no longer taking any interest in the pleasures of life or the society of friends, it is common for them to say they are suffering from "Female Trouble." But this is a term which does not explain the cause of their pain, nervousness, sallow, drawn faces, undernourished bodies and depression either to themselves or their friends.

The discoverers of G. F. P. found and proved beyond a doubt that Catarrh of the Generative Organs is the dreaded enemy which is causing women most of the cramping, nervousness, headaches, backaches, pain in the side and legs and that awful depressed and melancholy feeling which accompanies these distressing symptoms.

This important discovery puts an end forever to hit and miss methods of treating the ailments of women because it put at rest all doubt concerning the cause of their suffering.

WHAT THE M'KINNEY LIONS TOLD US

The visit of the McKinney Lions to the Paris club was a very good thing for Lamar county.

The work which has been done in Collin county is very good and is of a character which will be of benefit to every county. It can be done in Lamar county and it should be done.

Certainly it is essential that the proper person to do that work shall be obtained; and that there shall be an active co-operation and an interest upon the part of all the people of the county. That can be obtained with the publicity—the advertising—which will attend the good results effected.

Close reading of that report on the meeting of the Lions club which is carried elsewhere in The Morning News is recommended for everyone who is interested in and concerned with the development of Lamar county.

CREAGER IS A POOR PROPHET

Creager, at present the republican leader, says that "eighty per cent of the democrats" will vote for the republican nominee. Wherein Creager is in error—serious error.

We've been hearing that threat of voting for the republicans for many years; and every once in awhile they collect a recruit like Jack Elgin or E. G. Senter or some other democratic castoff; but even at that these recruits are only occasional.

It is quite probable—in fact, it happens every general election—that a great number of democrats will remain at home; but that is no indication that they are sulking or even that they think of the republican nominee at all.

This year, being a presidential year, the vote in November will probably be larger for both parties than in the "off years;" but Crager will draw small conolation from the net result.

THE RETIREMENT OF TOM LOVE

Tom Love has resigned as National committeeman from Texas. That is a very appropriate action upon the part of Mr. Love and to be highly commended.

His reasons for resigning are of small weight or importance. He states them at some length, it is true; but the main fact is that he has resigned—and that is the thing in which a majority of the democrats of Texas will be interested.

Mr. Love is thoroughly out of accord with both the State and the National democracy just at present. He must be given full credit for bowing to the will of the majority and stepping aside that Texas democrats may be the better represented in the National committee at a critical time in the history of the party.

Chick Hafey is a High Priced Texan

A check for $24,500, the largest sum ever paid to a Texas league club for a ball player, has been received by the Houston owners from the St. Louis club of the National league. But this sum does not represent all that Houston has gotten in exchange for Chick Hafey, the hard-hitting youngster who one year ago was toiling on the obscure Fort Smith team.

St. Louis actually paid $25,000 in cash and relinquished to Houston all claims upon catcher Harry McCurdy. Inasmuch as the latter was valued at $3,000 the Houston management is drawing down the princely sum of $28,000 for the young certerfielder.

The reason the check that was received this week reads for $24,500 and not $25,000 is that 2 per cent was taken out by Secretary Farrell of the National association. This 2 per cent totals $500. Such monies as this support the National association. Farrell himself sent the check after the $25,000 had been transferred to his office.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Washington took the lead from the world champion Yanks here today as a result of an eighth inning rally which netted eight runs, six of them after two were out.

Ruth hit his forty-first and forty-second home runs and apparently had piled up a safe lead for New York when Pennock weakened in the eighth and the entire New York club collapsed shortly after that.

It was estimated that a crowd of 20,000 was in the park at the start of the game.

The Senators threatened in the first inning when Rice doubled to left with two out and Judge walked, but Pipp made a beautiful stop and throw to Pennock, who covered first on Bluege's grounder for the third out.

The Yankees opened the scoring in the second inning when Pipp tripled to left center with one out. He scored a moment later on Schang's sacrifice fly to left.

The Senators tied the count in the first half of the third when Harris and Rice singled in succession with one out, the former scoring on Goslin's grounder that was too hot for Pipp.

Ruth sent the Yankees into the lead in the fourth inning with a home run into the right field breachers, his forty-first circuit clout of the season. No one was on base.

Zachary was relieved by Russell.

After Pipp had flied out Schang and Ward singled in quick succession. Russell stopped the rally by forcing Pipp to pop up and squelching an atempted double steal by Ward and Schang, the latter being run down between third and home.

Goslin's home run to deep left center with Rice on second gave the Senators two more runs in the fifth to tie the score. The hit was within the park but the relay was too slow to stop the fleet Senator outfielder.

The Yanks went into the lead in their half of the fifth. Pennock walked. Witt flied out, but Dgan doubled, sending Pennock to third. Ruth was intentionally passed on four pitched balls while the crowd booed.

With the bases full, Bob Meusel sent Rice back to the outer edge in deep right to get his long fly, Pennock scoring after the catch.

Ruth hit his forty-second home run of the season, his second of the game, in the seventh with Dugan, who had singled, on first. It was a tremnedously hard hit ball and landed in the right field bleachers.

The Senators started the eighth impressively. Bluege singled to center. Ruel doubled to right, sending Bluege to third. This blow proved the last of Herb Pennock and Gaston replaced him on the mound.

Scott threw out Peckinpaugh, Bluege scoring on the play and Ruel held second. Liebold, batting for Russell, walked. McNeely singled to right and the bases were full with one out. Harris hit to Dugan, who fumbled, Ruel scoring and Harris got to first safely.

Miller Huggins yanked Gaston and Sam Jones went to the mound with the bases full, one out and the Senators but one run behind.

POOR BASERUNNING LOST FOR OILERS

Tyler Club Outclassed the Representatives of the Texas Association

CORSICANA, Aug. 28.—Poor base running contributed to the downfall of the Corsicana Oilers against the Tyler Trojans today in the second game of the Lone Star series for the championship of Texas by a score of 5 to 3.

Najo and Donaldson, outfielders of the Trojans, hit home runs, while Lovelace hit a home run for Corsicana.

Cantrell was the losing pitcher and Yowell got the credit for winning the hectic contest.

In spite of the loss of the first two games of the series the Oilers seem none the less setback though the Trojans hold the advantage, and the spirits of both teams are high.

The Oilers played an errorless game while the Trojans were charged with three errors; but the offense and defense of the Trojans outclasses that of the locals.

Friday will be an off day for the clubs while the scene of hostilities will be shifted to Tyler for two games beginning Saturday.

Lusitania Will Not Be Raised from Sea

(Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Chances are that the Lusitania, sunk off the Irish coast by a German torpedo in May, 1915, never will be raised, according to David Masters, author of a book which describes the wonders of salvage.

The sheer weight of the sea, the writer points out, quickly obliterates man's handiwork, and the Lusitania probably ceased to be a ship years ago. It is extremely likely that the tremendous presures to which she was subjected at the depth of 288 feet long ago crushed her flat, he says.

TILDEN HAD EASY TIME IN HIS PLAY

George Lott is Coming Fast but He Had to Play for All He Knew

(Associated Press)

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—William T. Tilden, defending the National tennis crown he has worn for the past four years, romped through his second match of the title tournament this afternoon, overwhelming Lucien Williams of Chicago, former intercollegiate champion, in straight sets, in the third round. The scores were 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.

The match was only a workout for the champion and lasted only three quarters of an hour while he dazzled his young opponent with a brilliant asortment of strokes.

Wililams sustained many sparkling rallies, particularly in the second set, when he scored one break through Tilden's service, but the former Yale star was outclassed. Tilden took four of the games in the final set without the loss of a point, scoring 11 placements.

George Lott, Jr., Chicago schoolboy sensation, advanced to the fifth round when he defeated Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass. Lott won in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5, 16-14, but his margin of victory was close and gained only after a final set which set a record for the tournament.

"Little Bill" Johnston joined his Davis cup teammates and rival, Tilden, in the fourth round by sweeping through decisively to a victory over Wray Brown of St. Louis, Missouri Valley champion, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, 6-1.

Except for a brief spell of unsteadiness in the first set which he pulled out after trailing at 2-4, on games, Johnston put Brown to rout, his booming forehanders quickly deciding the last two sets.

Gerald Patterson, Australian Davis cup champion, flashed the most impressive tennis any invader has shown in confuering Watson M. Washburn, New York veteran, whopreviously had eliminated Robert Kinsey and Harvey Snodgrass, California stars. Patterson, employing his cannon ball service effectively blasted his way to victory in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

Japan's last threats in the tournament when Suano Okamato was put out by Elmer Griffin of San Francisco after his countryman, M. Fukuda, suffered a trouncing at the hands of Dean Mathey of New York. Both Japanese were defeated in straight sets.

WILLIAMS TO HEAD DAVIS CUP TEAM

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—R. Morris Williams II, Philadelphia, has been selected as non-playing captain of the American team which will defend the Davis cup, emblematic of international team tennis supremacy in the challenge round at Philadelphia beginning September 11, it was announced today by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Rogers Hornsby's New Batting Record

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—Since starting on a batting spree here a week ago in a game with Philadelphia, Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinals' slugging second baseman and leading major league hitter, has hit safely in 10 straight games and collected 27 hits in 39 attempts, for a total of 16 runs. During the past week three double headers were played.

Of these hits Hornsby has driven out six homers, in as many days, bringing his total for the season to 22 and 8 doubles and 1 triple.

In Tuesday's game with Brooklyn he scored three of the four runs for St. Louis, driving out one home run and three doubles off Grimes in four attempts. His week's average of .692 is thought to be a world's record.

Last Wednesday and Thursday Hornsby obtained 13 hits in 14 trips to the plate in the four games played. He had hit safely nine straight times on last Friday when he was stopped by Pitcher Nehf New York.

CASE CONTINUED IN MIDST OF TRIAL

On Account of New Pleadings Set up Being Claimed as Matter of Surprise

When the district court opened Thursday morning the trial of the case of Hutchison vs Miller, a damage suit growing out of a land transaction was resumed, but came to an unexpected ending by the introduction of new pleadings.

The defendant G. H. Hutchison sold the plaintiff, H. R. Miller, 40 acres of land in the Rio Grande valley and the plaintiff claiming that the land was not up to representation brought suit for damages, estimating the difference between the alleged real value and what he paid, or agreed to pay, as the amount of damages. The amount sued for was $5,100.

When the case was taken up Thursday morning the plaintiff filed amended pleadings, which the defense claimed was a surprise on account of which it was granted a continuance to meet the new allegations.

In the purchase of the land Miller had executed a note for part of the money and note had been traded to W. L. Hutchison, who brought suit to recover judgment on it both against H. R. Miller and G. H. Hutchison. Miller withdrew his answer in the case and judgment was taken against him on the note.

The jurors for the day having been excused after the trial of the Miller vs Hutchison case was taken up, under the impression that it would consume the time, the court was idle when the case was continued.

Mrs. Klein Hurt in an Auto Accident

Mrs. N. I. Klein, proprietor of Woman's Toggery Shop on Bonham street, was painfully injured between 8 and 9 o'clock Thursday night in an automobile accident while she and Mrs. Thad Thomas were out riding on the concrete highway about eight miles from town near the Williams ranch.

From the best information availabale they were going west and met a car driven by Mr. Misso, a barber living at Roxton, who was coming toward Paris. The occupants of both cars appeared to have been somewhat blinded by each other's lights and Mr. Misso is said to have struck the fender of the Klein car on the left side and knocked it off the slab the car turning over.

Mrs. Klein's right arm was broken and she received other painful bruises, but was not seriously hurt. The other occupants escaped with injury. She was driving in a Ford coupe, which was badly damaged. All of the coupling springs under the bottom were torn to pieces.

Mrs. Klein was taken to the sanitarium where an x-ray picture was made of her arm, after which she was able to admit of being carried home.

COAL OIL ON FIRE HOUSE TOTAL LOSS

Home of Jack Mahaffey Was Destroyed as Result of an Explosion

The residence of Jack Mahaffey and wife on North Church street, opposite the home of his parents, Fink Mahaffey and wife, caught fire at 7 o'clock Thursday morning while Mrs. Mahaffey was preparing to cook breakfast.

She used coal oil to start the fire, and there being a few coals in the stove the oil blazed up and reached the spout of the can, causing it to blaze.

She dashed the can from her and it exploded. The blazing oil was spread all over the house and set it on fire. The contents were entirely consumed and the house, which was owned by A. B. Burnett, was badly damaged.

There was no insurance on the furniture. There was $600 on the house, but it was not sufficient to replace the damage, the house being considered practically a total loss from an insurance standpoint.

WILL NOT HAVE A CITY INSTITUTE

Supt. Wooten Desires Teachers of Paris Schools to Join the County Schools

Last year the teachers of the city schools held a separate institute from the one held by the county teachers, it being thought best on account of the methods of teaching and school regulations being different from the rural schools. It is understood, however, that the city schools will not have an institute of their own this time, but that the teachers will attend the Lamar-Delta institute.

Supt. J. G. Wooten and the principals of the ward schools held a meeting Wednesday at which the superintendent expressed a desire for the teachers to take part with the county institute and suggested that on Thursday, Friday and Saturday the city teachers give attention to their particular schools in the institute work.

Supt. Wooten will expect the Paris teachers to go to their respective wards after the institute to take up their new books and arrange them. It is likely that the school children will be enrolled Saturday so that the schools can start the regular work Monday without losing a day.

Bake in a moderate oven and score into squares before attempting to remove from the pan.

Save this and watch for the next

SOME years ago one of the Government Bureaus prepared figures showing the average yearly consumption of food by 2,567 families and what they paid for it. The data covering three of the important food items are given in the first three columns below; and to this we have added, in the right-hand column, the number of calories or energy units contained in one dollar's worth of each of these three foods at the cost indicated.

Food	Pounds per Year	Cost	Calories for $1.00
Sugar	268.5	$15.76	30,921
Butter	117.1	28.76	14,214
Fresh Beef	349.	50.05	6,903

Prices have changed, but these figures emphasize the high food values of sugar in relation to its cost, and the economy in giving it an important place on your table. The best to buy is

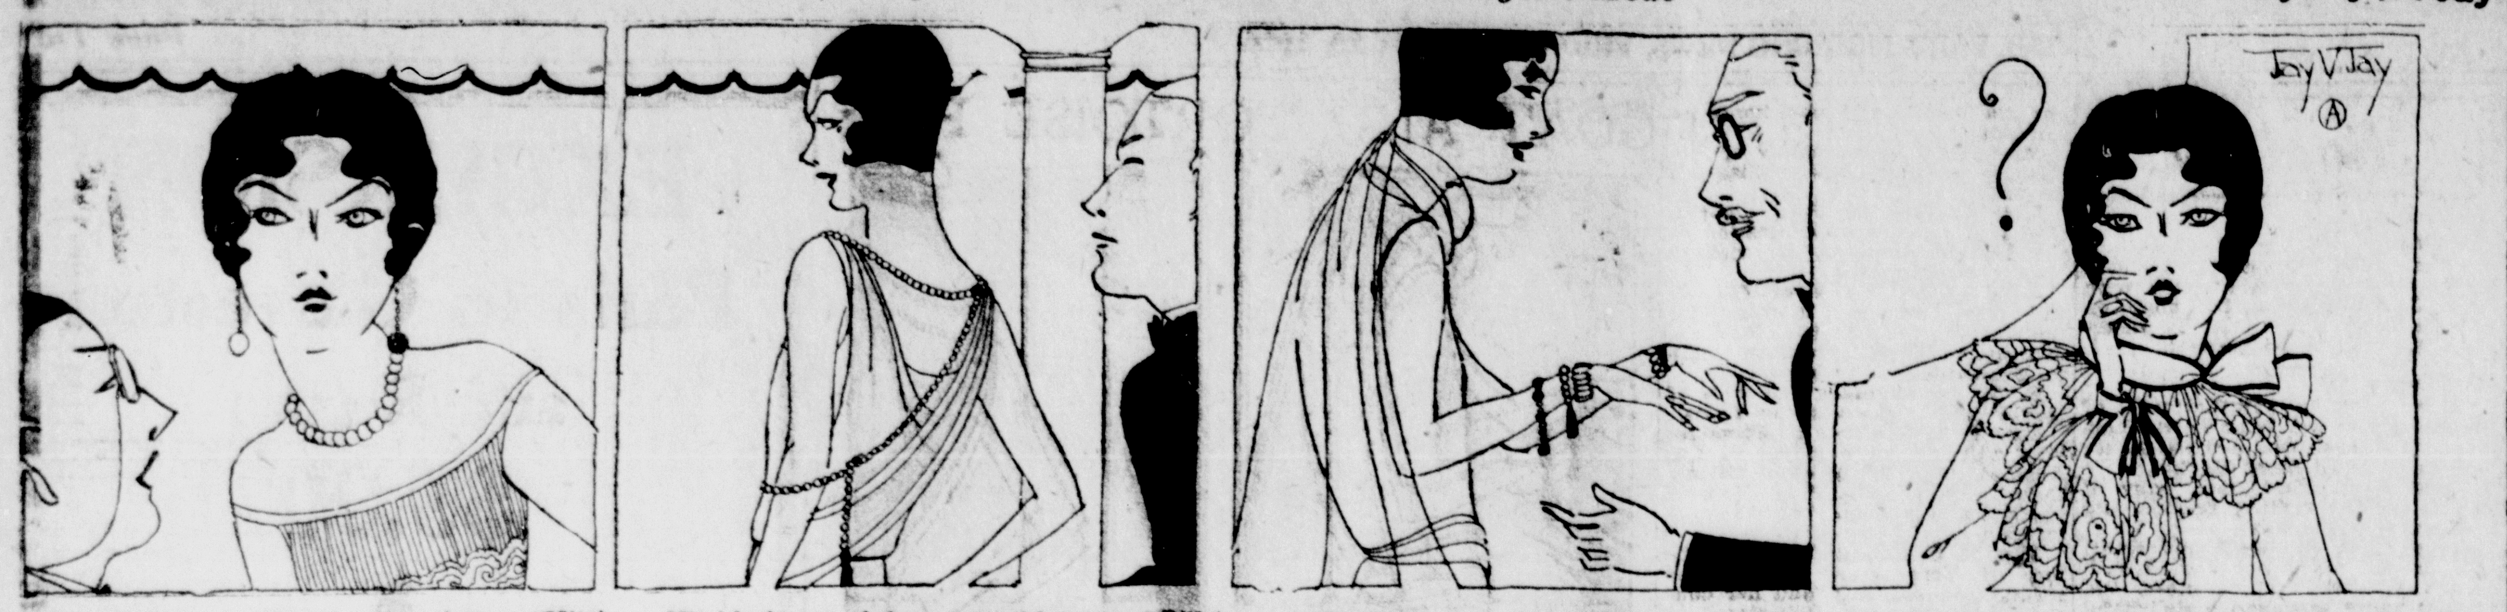
MODISH MITZI.

Mitzi Says Lace Has First Place In The Lingerie Mode

By Jay V. Jay



The Goofer is saying in this picture, "Mitzi, how odd your earrings are. One is pearl and the other is jet." "Yes," replies Mitzi, "it is quite the neweet thing to have them different." And then the Goofer will go on to say how becoming they are . . . .

Mitzi looks out of the corner of her eye at Bill to see the effect of the new pearl necklace. "Miss Mitzi I've never seen a necklace that dangled so . . irresistibly," he says. "Do you like it?" asks Mitzi, and Bill will go on to say how very, very much he likes it—especially . . . on her.

"My dear," says Dad, "how many bracelets are you wearing and how in the world did you get 'em all different?" "Oh yes," says Mitzi, "that is the way one wears bracelets now." The pretty colors are very becoming and Dad will go on to say that Mitzi has such good taste . . .

And here you see Mitzi thinking. Her brain is a large question mark. "What next?" it asks. And Mitzi does not know. All she knows is that it must be new. And therein lies a great deal of Mitzi's charm. If you do not believe it, watch her a while and see.

Lions Heard of the Collin County Work

Thursday's luncheon of the Lions club was a most enjoyable one, the local Lions having as their guests about twenty-five Lions from McKinney, the metropolis of Collin county and a number of Paris business men.

The roar of the McKinney Lions is somewhat a familiar sound in Paris, for they are remembered as having come strong to the State convention in May and true to their slogan—they are a live bunch of men—just the kind that it takes to make up a real Lions club.

They came twenty-five strong and brought with them talent for the day's program and it is needless to say that it was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present.

The regular order of business was suspended and the meeting was turned over to Deputy District Governor Mays who presided. Lion Mays brought greetings from the district governor, Colonel R. D. Greene of Abilene, to all Lions present and expressed his delight and that of his fellow Lions at the opportunity of meeting with the Paris Lions and enjoying their fellowship.

The first number on the program was a violin selection by Rupert M. Crabb, who has through his vocation earned the title of "the only farmer in the McKinney club." He gave two selections that won hearty approval of his listeners. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Williams, also of McKinney.

Miss Paula McCain, a daughter of Lion McCain, and who has appeared numbers of times before the local club, gave two readings, both of which were well received. "The Last Rose of Summer" and "What is a Lion?" were her numbers.

The next number was a most popular one, in fact they were forced to respond with several encores. "The McKinney Mystifying Instrumental Quartet," composed of "Farmer" Crabb, "Natural Gas" Williams, "Sir Windy" Gray and Bob Hardage, was introduced by the last named, and rendered a number of popular numbers not forgetting the ever requested "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'."

Lion Hardage announced that the members of the quartet would remain a few minutes after the program and would be glad to give instructions as to playing, organizing or the like to any one who wished information. Just what sort of an instrument they used is not ascertainable, but Dr. Hooks suggested that the best comparison he could make was a chemical exterminator for the boll weevil.

Lion Mays introduced Mrs. Viola Pool McGee, the home demonstrator for Collin county, who made an interesting talk on the home demonstration work and what it has meant to Collin county; and in one of the most progressive sections of the State and for that reason this sort of work has proven to be a great thing, both for the people living in the city and those living in the rural districts.

Not only McKinney, but Paris, and other surrounding cities are located in the midst of farming country and depend largely on the agricultural resources and it behooves them to give careful consideration to these things.

Mrs. McGee highly complimented the Lions club of McKinney for their valuable assistance in the work; for a great deal of the praise of success belongs to the men and women of the county who boosted the work and gave of their time and money to its organization. The work was started five years ago and since that time a wonderful progress has been made. The work is supplemented by the Texas A. and M. college and co-operates with the United States department of agriculture; and gardening, canning, cooking, sewing and poultry raising are among the things taught.

Collin county has stressed canning and gardening. At present there are 39 clubs in the county, 35 of which are made up of the housewives of the county and have a membership of 1200. The women are urged to raise new vegetables such as carrots, spinach, parsley, dill in addition to the usual line of vegetables.

A fruit tree campaign was recently inaugurated from a suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce, and as a result there have been 18,000 fruit trees and berry vines planted throughout the county. This will insure a future basis from which the clubs can work. The home demonstration work also gives valuable instruction classes in the preservation of eggs and many barrels of eggs are put up each year to be used the following winter. Infertile egg tests are made and they, too, are most beneficial.

Since 1919 the work has steadily grown and from the small girls club that was started in that year that put up 600 cans of vegetables, the figures have increased at a remarkable rate and last year in the county there were 400,000 jars of various sorts of products put up and retained in the county—which means that 32 carloads of vegetables and meats have not been shipped into Collin county and the people have been saved something like $80,000 in the way of edibles for the winter.

During the last two years 18 club houses have been built, with fully equipped kitchens and they are used daily all the year round. They are usually placed on the school grounds because that is nearly always the civic center of a community and during the winter in some instances hot lunches are furnished the school children from the kitchens.

Mrs. McGee is vitally interested in her work and is enthusiastic over the wonderful progress that has been made; and the many things that have been accomplished under her direction are appreciated by every citizn of McKinney and Collin county.

To verify the statement and the good things that Mrs. McGee said about these clubs, the Lions brought along a few samples, which they gave at the close of the program to four of the Paris Lions.

The names of the Paris people were put in a hat and eight names were drawn; the lucky ones being Lions Palmer, Fry, Hooks, Gill, Cassidy, James, Staples, Wunsch. They were each given a balloon and the side that burst all their balloons first, won the prizes. Lions Staples, Wunsch, Cassidy and Palmer got them. Some wondered why, but President Hooks settled this by saying that it could be accounted for as they were just naturally the windy side.

The weekly membership prize was given by Joe Wunsch and Grady Fry won it.

Carter Anderson's group will have charge of next Thursday's program. Thursday's luncheon showed excellent interest on the part of the McKinney Lions club and to them is extended from the local club their heartiest appreciation for such a delightful program.

GATHERING COTTON FROM THE GROUND

Storm Had Stripped the Bolls but the Rain Did Not Spoil Staple

L. B. Coward, who lives in the Redhill community below Arthur City, stated while in town Thursday that the storm Monday afternoon did some damage on his farm and on the farm of Bob McDougal. All of the cotton that was open was beaten out on the ground by hail. He and Mr. McDougal had cotton pickers at work Wednesday and Thursday gathering the cotton off the ground. He said that the grade would be damaged some, but that the staple was all right. The sun dried out the ground soon after the rain fell and the cotton did not rot on the ground.

Mr. Coward said that there was a copious rainfall that made people feel better, and that it did some good to the crops, but it was the first that had fallen in seven weeks and it was not sufficient for stock water.

THE DEPORT GINS ARE BEING KEPT VERY BUSY

DEPORT, Aug. 28—There have been 534 bales of cotton ginned at Deport this season up to Thursday morning. At the same time last week 91 bales were reported, which is a gain of 443 bales during that time. Gin reports were as follows: Union Forwarding company, 100 bales; Deport gin, 198 bales; Farmers gin, 236 bales.

Weigher Stalls reports 399 bales of cotton of the new crop weighed at Deport this season, a gain for the week of 328 bales. Prices being paid for lint were around 25½ cents per pound. There are now about 325 bales on the platform.

PIMPLES QUICKLY CLEARED UP

So-called skin diseases are caused by poisons from the perspiration becoming congested in the tiny pores and glands of the skin because they can't get out. Unhealthy skin holds them back and you know what must happen when you continue to let this condition exist. For this reason "skin lotions," etc., can't possibly help you any. You need what is known as Black and White Ointment, which heals the sores, builds up the tissue of the skin, makes it active, so it naturally expels all the acid poisons which the system must throw off through the pores. Then, pimples, blotches "breaking out," eczema, etc., quickly disappear.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in generous packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have Black and White Soap, too, so you can keep your face, neck, hands and arms lovely and clear.

DOING FAIRLY WELL BUT BOLLS SMALL

T. J. Jeffries, a farmer of the Chicota community, stated while in town Thursday that cotton was doing pretty well but that the bolls were small. The corn crop is about a half crop, he said.

THE WEATHER TOO HOT FOR MUCH PICKING

Dr. E. Cook, who was in the city Thursday from Garrett's Bluff, stated that cotton was opening right along, but that the weather was too hot to do much picking.

SOLD TWELVE BALES FOR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

R. O. STORY LOSES HIS CAR IN PARIS

A Dodge touring car belonging to R. O. Story of Deport disappeared between 1:30 and 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the south side of the Plaza in front of Perkins Bros. company's store, and is presumed to have been stolen. The owner was away only a few minutes, and it is probable that the person who took it was watching him when he parked it.

The theft was reported to the officers and cards were printed and mailed out to officers over the country. It has lately became a frequent occurrence in Paris and other places for cars to disappear.

WIFE IS DEAD AND HUSBAND WOUNDED

Shooting Followed Visit of Peacock and Divorced Wife to Home of Second

(Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 28—Mrs. Jess J. Peacock was shot and killed and her husband was wounded this morning in their home on College avenue. The husband will recover. He has been arrested.

The shooting took plac on the second floor of the home. Neighbors heard a scuffle, they said, before the shots were fired.

Peacock had gone to the home of his first wife, with whom he had not lived for a number of years. His second wife followed, it is said, and the three met in the first wife's room. Peacock exhibits a shattered arm as proof of his statement that his second wife began firing.

Officers think Peacock wrested the gun from her and shot her. The woman's body has only one gunshot wound, the fatal one in the head, but the body has many bruises.

Peacock was taken to a hospital where his wound was dressed. Later he was removed to the district attorney's office for questioning.

During the shooting his divorced wife was on the back porch. The 23-months-old baby of Peacock and his second wife was also in the house.

AUTO DASHED AGAINST A TELEPHONE POST

While a resident of Commerce was going from Paris back home Wednesday night in an automobile he met with an accident near Evergreen cemetery, where there is a short turn to get on the concrete road.

Just as he reached the place where the turn is made his lamps went out and he ran straight ahead against a telephone pole, which caused him to pitch against the windshield. His lips were painfully bruised and cut against the broken glass. The car was badly damaged.

COTTON WAS UP ON THE LACK OF RAIN

Some Covering Was Also of Assistance in Raising the Price of Options

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The cotton market opened steady, at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 6 points and soon showed net gains of 20 to 27 points on the active months. Covering was stimulated by relatively steady cables and a bullish private crop report.

The effect of these figures was offset partially by private reports of rains in Texas and another private report appeared later making the condition 64 and the indicated yield 13,020,000 bales. The figures apparently were nearly in line with expectations, and fluctuations after the early advance were irregular.

The mid afternoon market was not active but prices were a shade easier owing to reports of increased offerings in the South. The latter were accompanied by some Southern selling here.

Futures closed very steady.

Fahy Condemned by Postal Authorities

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Postmaster General New declared today that information in his posession forced him to the conclusion that Postoffice Inspector William F. Fahy, now held for alleged complicity in the $2,000,000 robbery at Ronoutd, Ill., last June, was guilty of wrongdoing.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28—While postoffice inspectors today were seeking to find and question the wife of Wiliam F. Fahy, postoffice inspector who was arrested Tuesday charged with conspiracy in connection with the $2,000,000 Rondout, Ill., mail robbery on June 12, Deputy United States Marshal William J. Roberts was questioned.

Information that the deputy marshal had motored to the Fahy home on the North Side yesterday and drove away accompanied by Fahy's wife had come to inspectors from agents said to have been watching the home.

Fahy in his jail cell, blamed "Big Tim" Murphy, labor leader now serving a sentence at Leavenworth prison for the Dearborn station $300,000 robbery.

Assigns No Reason for Declining to Be Republican Nominee for Governor

The resignation of Miss Elizabeth Baker of Dallas, republican nominee for superintendent of public instruction, also was received and filed.

Mr. Lee's letter of resignation, sworn to before a notary public, came from Colorado Springs, Colo., where he is spending a vacation. It was dated August 25 and merely said:

"Enclosed herewith find my official resignaton as republican party candidate for governor of Texas in accordance with article 3172 and laws of the State of Texas."

Caverly Denounced Crowe For Attack

who have property to protect think the only way to do so is to build jails and lock you up six days a week and praying for you on Sunday," was another quotation read.

At another point, he read:

"There is no danger of a rich man going to a jail."

Mr. Darrow rose at this point to enter objection to the reading protesting that the speech was not introduced in evidence and that it had been delivered years ago.

"Was Omar Khayyam ever introduced in evidence?" the State's attorney demanded sharply.

Judge Caverly told the attorneys he would pay no attention to extraneous matter in reaching his decision and suggested that Mr. Crowe was not using his time profitably.

"What Mr. Darrow has said or done has no bearing on the penalty that is to be given to these young men, the only subject before the court," he said. The prosecutor tossed the booklet aside and turned to a vitriolic attack upon the anarchistic philosophy of Clar- S. Darrow.

"The real defense here is Clarence Darrow's dangerous philosophy of life," he shouted. "It would probably have been less dangerous to the community if this crime had not been disclosed.

"Society can endure even though criminals escape. But if Your Honor puts the stamp of approval of this great court upon this doctrine we contend that a greater damage shall have been visited upon our institutions and our laws than a hundred, yes a thousand more grevious crimes."

Mr. Crowe touched upon the "friendly judge" 'testimony, declaring that "if Leonold did not say that, as was testified by the officer on the stand, then, Your Honor, his actions in this court, demonstrate it."

The court asked the stenographers to give him a special copy of Mr. Crowe's statement on this phase, after Mr. Darrow murmured a suggestion to which the judge nodded assent.

Mr. Crowe concluded his argument with a short whispered plea for the death penalty.
